Toledo Rotary Club Foundation Grant Recipient: Good Grief of Northwest Ohio

The Toledo Rotary Club Foundation recently awarded Good Grief of Northwest Ohio a grant in the amount of $2,100.00 for their Finding Expression Through Music program.

All funds were used to establish a music space for their program participants. They purchased wall panels and had them installed to create the framework (and sound containment) for the project.

Over 15 musical instruments were purchased and placed in the music space, including an electronic keyboard.

The remaining funds were used for additional sound baffles, a rug, and two inexpensive decorative pieces.

Participants are drawn to the music space to express their thoughts and emotions through music. Some children enjoy collaborating with other participants, while some of the children prefer spending time on their own in the music space.

Over 30 Good Grief child participants have access each month to professional, yet kid-friendly musical instruments.

A study done by the University of Arizona showed that grieving children who had an outlet to express their thoughts, feelings and emotions associated with grief, were significantly less likely to exhibit problems of depression, anxiety, physical complaints, post-traumatic stress symptoms, lower academic success, reduced self-esteem, and feelings of having lost control of their lives and futures.

The gift of music from the Toledo Rotary Club Foundation to their child participants has become an important element in their journey to understanding and re-building their world after the death of someone important to them.

Toledo Rotary Club Foundation Trustee, Mary Mancini, presented Good Grief of Northwest Ohio's Managing Director, Dorothy Mockensturm, with a check at a recent Monday meeting.
